

Ale Lighting Distribution Box Price

AI Overview

The price of a lighting distribution box typically ranges from $50 to several hundred dollars per unit, depending on specifications, materials, and order volume. Factors Affecting Price Specifications and Features: The number of outlets, cable entry points, and compatibility with control systems (e.g., DALI or traditional 230V wiring) influence cost. Advanced models with smart lighting integration or modular designs are more expensive. Material and Build Quality: Boxes made from durable materials like anodized aluminum or IP-rated enclosures for outdoor use cost more than basic plastic units. Order Volume and Wholesale Pricing: Bulk orders or OEM requests can significantly reduce per-unit costs. Wholesale suppliers often provide lower prices for larger quantities. Regional and Brand Differences: Locally manufactured boxes, such as those from the UK, may have higher prices due to compliance with local standards, while imported units from China may be cheaper but require shipping. Typical Price Ranges Basic small-scale boxes: $50-$150 per unit, suitable for simple street or park lighting. Mid-range boxes: $150-$300 per unit, often with multiple outlets, steel mounting clips, and moderate environmental protection. Advanced or smart boxes: $300-$600+ per unit, supporting IoT integration, modular configurations, and high durability for urban infrastructure. For precise pricing, it is recommended to contact suppliers directly with your specifications, quantity, and delivery requirements, as prices fluctuate based on customization, shipping, and market demand.
