

Automated Assembly of Cable Trays

Overview

A cable tray making machine, also known as a cable tray roll former, is an automated machine that forms metal coil strips into cable tray sections through a series of progressive dies and bending operations. Precision and Efficiency in Automation and Machinery with Interflex Cable Management Systems In the realms of industrial automation and machinery, where cutting-edge technology meets operational precision, efficient cable management is vital. It forms the sheet into specific shapes and specifications through decoiling, leveling, punching, notching, and roll forming. Kablator machines and systems carry out the process of laying and routing cable fully automatically. The cable tray production line is an intelligent mechanical integrated system designed for the production of cable tray systems, which realizes the precise forming of the bridge structure through automated processes.
