

Plate-type distribution box price quote

AI Overview

Plate-type distribution boxes typically range from $50 to $500 per unit, depending on specifications, capacity, and customization options.

Pricing Overview The cost of a plate-type distribution box varies widely based on voltage rating, amperage capacity, number of circuits, material construction, and safety features. Standard residential units are generally on the lower end of the price spectrum, while commercial and industrial models with higher durability, larger capacity, or advanced control systems command higher prices (Sunnom).

Factors Affecting Price

- Material and Build Quality: Steel or aluminum enclosures, weather-resistant coatings, and IP-rated designs increase cost (Made-in-China).
- Capacity and Features: More circuits, three-phase systems, or integrated smart monitoring and digital displays raise the price (Sunnom).
- Customization: OEM branding, custom busbar fitment, top cable entry modifications, and specialized labeling can add to the unit cost (Made-in-China).
- Quantity: Bulk orders often reduce per-unit pricing, while single units or small orders are more expensive (Mouser).
- Installation and Maintenance: Costs for mounting, wiring, and long-term maintenance should be considered in the total investment (Sunnom).

Typical Price Ranges

- Basic residential plate-type boxes: $50-$150 per unit
- Mid-range commercial units: $150-$300 per unit
- High-end industrial or smart distribution boxes: $300-$500+ per unit, especially with advanced monitoring or outdoor-rated enclosures (Coloria Group)

Procurement Tips

- Request quotes directly from manufacturers or distributors to get accurate pricing based on your specifications (Made-in-China).
- Consider future-proofing by selecting boxes that allow for expansion, smart monitoring, or integration with building management systems (Coloria Group).
- Compare local suppliers versus international manufacturers for cost efficiency, keeping in mind shipping and compliance with electrical standards (TradeIndia).
- For a precise quote, provide the supplier with details such as number...
